

Dear Colleagues

During the last 7 years, JOTMI journal has used a traditional format like most other academic journals in the area of management. This means that we have worked on three sections: Research articles, reviews and case studies.

Unfortunately, huge income barriers, academic demands of the peer review process and budget limitations are big challenges for innovative format or to incorporate new sections.

Taking in account the above mention, and following the examples from the scientific world we founded a new journal called "Current Opinion in Creativity, Innovation and Entrepreneurship (ISSN 0719-2991)". This format satisfies the growing need of the academia in the management area, giving the support of short papers (1000 +/- 3500 words) which helps readers by providing it in a systematic manner:

1. The views of experts on current advances and trends in creativity, innovation and entrepreneurship in a clear and readable form.
2. Evaluations of the most interesting papers, annotated by experts, from original publications with great academic and practical value.

This new format in the area will give a highlighted presence to the researchers, professors and opinion leaders in fields related to creativity, innovation and entrepreneurship (CIE). From now on your personal contributions can be cited under the same standards of an academic journal, helping to increase your impact factor and the accumulated cites.

We kindly invite you to learn more about this project and to subscribe to the following website in order to accreditate yourself and make your contributions:

Finally we remind you that JOTMI (<http://www.jotmi.org>) has an open call for papers entitled "Fostering an Entrepreneurial Environment in an Emerging Nation: Lessons and Challenges from Chile," which aims to contribute to the entrepreneurship literature, specifically within developing economies. Special emphasis will be placed on those articles that describe local realities, learnt lessons, successful and unsuccessful cases, and experiences that challenge myths about entrepreneurship.

Sincerely Yours

Alejandro Jiménez
